Betty & David C. Farrell

Memory Care Home Solutions is proud to honor Betty and David C. Farrell as the Alzheimer's Community Service Awardees for 2011. Betty and David have demonstrated extraordinary commitment and advocacy for the welfare, health and education of the St. Louis community – our organization is fortunate to have their unwavering support for families caring for loved ones with memory loss, dementia and Alzheimer's disease.

David served as the former Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the May Department Stores Company. Mr. Farrell spent his career with the May Company, joining Kaufmann's, the company's Pittsburgh-based department store, upon graduation from Antioch College in 1956. Beginning as a buyer, he became vice president and general merchandise manager in 1966, president of Kaufmann's and vice president of the May Department Stores Company in 1969. He was elected a director of the company in 1974, became president and chief operating officer in 1975, chief executive officer in 1979, where he served until his retirement in 1998.

In 2000, David and Betty Farrell, in partnership with the former May Company, established the David C. and Betty Farrell Distinguished Professorship in Medicine in Washington University's John Milliken Department of Medicine. The Farrell family were leaders in bringing the Siteman Cancer Center to the campus and also provided the leadership gift to build the state-of-the-art Farrell Learning and Teaching Center on the medical campus.

Like her husband, Betty Farrell is a dedicated community volunteer, notably through her work on behalf of the Saint Louis Art Museum and the Missouri Botanical Garden; she has served on the Botanical Garden's Board of Commissioners. She served on the University Libraries National Council from 1987 to 1990 and led a fundraising effort for an archaeology project at the university. In addition, the Farrells also have long supported the St. Louis community by providing a scholarship fund that sends local inner-city children to private schools.

David served on the Board of Directors at Emerson for 20 years and was a member of the Board of Directors at Ralston Purina. He is a director for many civic and cultural institutions and has served as chairman for many civic fund-raising activities. He is a former member and emeritus director of the Board of Commissioners of The Saint Louis Art Museum and a lifetime trustee of the Saint Louis Symphony Society, serves on the Community Advisory Board of the Siteman Cancer Center, and is trustee emeritus of the Board of Trustees of Washington University. David served as chairman for the Danforth Circle Eliot Society and is also on the National Council for Washington University's Medical School. He is a director of the Greater Saint Louis Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, a member of the Knights of Malta and he chaired the Lambert-St. Louis International Airport Business Task Force.
